

Crypto Researcher (full time)

About Us

Cyber Capital, founded in 2016 and based in Amsterdam (Netherlands) is an investment firm committed to generate superior returns for their investors through an actively managed crypto-assets portfolio with a long-term investment horizon. We combine established crypto investment expertise with traditional investment processes to bridge the gap between digital investment opportunities and traditional investors looking to gain exposure to cryptocurrencies.

About the Job

- Do research on specific projects for the fund
- Read technical whitepapers and be a second opinion if promises of projects can be achieved
- Keep a finger on the pulse in general around crypto developments
- Talk with project teams to gain better understanding
- Interact with the protocols and assets themselves
- Debate weekly with the research team on possible assets
- Join conferences to network, speak and represent the company (optional)

Profile

- Candidates must have a strong understanding of the crypto industry both from a direct investment or a fund of fund type of investment experience
- Have been within the crypto space at least since 2018, but preferably since 2016 and have witnessed the cycles of the market
- Have a strong background in computer science
- A proven track record of success and achievement within crypto; hands-on; decisive, focusing on priorities
- Have strong views and ability to defend those views
- Ability to work under pressure

- Enjoy deep fundamental debates
- Fluent in English, Chinese would be an additional asset
- Based in the Netherlands (Amsterdam) or in Switzerland (Zurich/Zug) is a plus but not a prerequisite

Competencies

- Results-oriented
- Ready to make investment calls
- Detail-oriented and precise
- Analytical and critical thinking
- Independent worker
- Team player

Seniority Level

Mid-senior level

Industry

Fund industry / Financial Services / Blockchain

Employment Type

Full-time

Job Functions

Research Analyst

Apply to Cyber Capital

Thanks for your interest in careers at Cyber Capital. If you think you could be a good fit for our team, we look forward to hearing from you.

When submitting your application to careers@cyber.capital, remember to include a motivation letter, a curriculum vitae as well as available references.