Alexander Werkheim appointed CEO of Cyber Capital to expand its strong performing cryptocurrency fund business.

Amsterdam (the Netherlands), February 1, 2022 – Following a successful transformation period in which a solid foundation for future growth was established under the leadership of CEO Katie Richards, Cyber Capital appoints Alexander Werkheim today to take over the helm and to expand its institutional and private clients investor base.

2021 was an important year for Cyber Capital with a focus on reshaping its operational set-up to lay a foundation for scalable growth. Katie Richards, who served as Cyber Capital's CEO from April 2021 to January 2022, a seasoned digital asset, risk manager and process expert, was instrumental in implementing key changes to reset the company's business and operating models, governance and strategy.

Cyber Capital, a pioneer cryptocurrency fund manager in the Netherlands since 2016, is among the first long-only crypto hedge funds worldwide. Registered with the Dutch Financial Authorities (AFM), Cyber Capital has a highly successful performance track record spanning nearly six years. The specialized research team combines deep crypto-expertise in fundamental analysis with a long-term (3-5 year) investment horizon based on value investing. Following a thorough and honed actively managed investment strategy, Cyber Capital offers investors exposure to the best possible crypto-assets at all times.

Justin Bons, Founder and CIO of Cyber Capital: "We are grateful for Katie Richards' skillfully led change management through a most challenging 2021. She significantly strengthened our organization and shaped the capabilities and collaborative spirit of our team to lay a strong foundation for our future development. Katie's exceptional dedication and experience led to outstanding results in a very short period of time, allowing me to focus more on research which helped to improve fund performance. Following a smooth handover, I am pleased to announce Alexander Werkheim as her successor to lead our team forward in the next phase of our strategy and company's history."

Alexander Werkheim, CEO of Cyber Capital: "I am delighted to take on this new exciting role. Cyber Capital can be proud of its crypto-research and investment expertise with a remarkable fund performance over the past 6 years. I look forward to joining the team to drive future growth and value for our shareholders and products and performance for our institutional and private investors."
